The 26-year-old was caught by police after a car crashed on the M6 near the M60 in Staffordshire. quote The the Police anti-sniffer dog had definitely given a positive reaction to the steering wheel of the car Joey Barton, Newcastle midfielder "The police said they checked my mobile phone and found a text message I had sent myself, which I'd obviously deleted," he said. quote I understand the consequences of drink-driving and I make no excuses for it, I did the wrong thing Joey Barton "I understand the consequences of drink-driving and I make no excuses for it, I did the wrong thing. "I've learned from my mistakes and will never do anything like that again. "There have been some bad decisions in my life but I don't think this is a bad decision." Barton had been at a party when police stopped his car in West Yorkshire. He then caused a crash as he tried to drive off. The midfielder said he had drunk between four and five pints of lager and ice during the party. quote There have been some bad decisions in my life but I don't think this is a bad decision On Thursday evening, he told a friend he was going to get a taxi and they had been drinking lager and vodka. "I'd had a few drinks," he said. "I'd gone to bed, had some more and then woke up with a
